9. DETAILS:

This investigation is related to UI #63212 92 2008C (The Roslindale Bombing) Monitor #63212-92-21.

On September 18, 1992, at approximately 1430 hours, Suffolk Superior Court, Judge Elbert Tuttle, at the request of Assistant District Attorney Marcy Cass, dismissed a state charge of telephonically communicating a bomb threat against defendant Daniel a. shay. Shay's defense attorney objected to the charges being dismissed, but was overruled by Judge Tuttle.

On September 18, 1992, at approximately 1435 hours, Shay was arrested by Special Agent Dennis P. Leahy, and Boston Police Homicide Detective Brendand Craven and Boston Police Sgt. Frank Armstrong, at the Suffolk Superior court lockup area. Shay was arrested on a federal warrant #92-0912RC, charging a violation of Title 18 USC 844(e), telephonically communicating a bomb threat. Shay's attorney was shown the arrest warrant and allowed to speak briefly with Shay. Shay was also advised of his rights by Special Agent Dennis P. Leahy.

On September 18, 1992, at approximately 1500 hours, Shay was processed for fingerprints, photographs, etc., at the U.S. Marshal's office, Boston, Massachusetts. While in the holding area Shay said the "I'm not the guy who bowled it, I'm not the guy who got the dynamite, I'm not the guy who placed it, I'm not violent." Shay also said that they guy who identified him as being at Radio Shack had committed perjury as he knew Shay from the "block". Shay also said that he knew "G's" roommate and the "G" worked at Radio Shack.
